

Education through the love of nature

During the Firelight Summer Foray you will wander and find adventures, play games and investigate the landscape, trees, plants, birds, insects and mammals in their beautiful local environment. Each day has a familiar rhythm held by songs and stories.

Firelight promotes the holistic development of all those involved: nurturing emotional, physical and intellectual growth.

In our modern world, even in our rural countryside, children are often allowed surprisingly little time to become aware of the fact that a relationship with nature is intrinsic to all human beings. We may forget that its development provides numerous opportunities for learning and growth, for fun and self-expression.

Firelight believe that it is only through a love of nature that children will be equipped with the wisdom and ability to care for the world we live in.
